SENATE BILL 9 (SB 9): AN OVERVIEW
WHAT IT IS AND HOW IT IMPACTS HOUSING

Questions?
Contact the Planning Department at (562) 220-2036 or planning@paramountcity.com

Senate Bill (SB 9) is a new California State Law that took effect January 1, 2022.

Similar to previous State legislation for Accessory Dwelling Units (ADUs), SB 9 overrides existing housing limits in single-family zones established by cities.

SB 9 waives discretionary review and public hearings for:
- Building 2 homes on a property in a single-family zone.
- Subdividing a property into 2 properties that can be smaller than required minimum size.

SB 9 allows for a maximum of 4 homes where 1 was allowed.

SB 9 can be used to:
- Add new homes to existing property.
- Divide property and add homes.

Does the project qualify?
- Single-Family Zoning. Two-Unit Residential Developments and "urban lot splits" only permitted in the R-1 (Single-Family Residential) zone.
